TRAINER PROFILE | PROFESSIONAL PORTFOLIO

Md. Sazzadur Ahamed

Assistant Professor, Department of Computer Science and Engineering

AI & Machine Learning | Generative AI | Prompt Engineering

Professional Summary

Assistant Professor of Computer Science with more than 10 years of academic and research experience in Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning. Author of 22 peer-reviewed publications, with experience delivering practical AI, Generative AI and Prompt Engineering training to corporate professionals and educators.

CORE EXPERTISE

- Artificial Intelligence & Machine Learning
- Generative AI and Prompt Engineering
- Decision Support Systems
- Data Analysis & Statistical Modeling
- Medical Image Analysis and AI research

CORPORATE & EDUCATOR TRAINING EXPERIENCE

- COATS Bangladesh (24 October 2026): Session 2 trainer, “Prompt Engineering, Communication & Documentation,” in the AI-Powered Workplace Productivity & Smart Office Practices program; delivered Copilot-based workplace exercises.
- TITAS Gas (16–18 July 2026): Training facilitator for the AI-Powered Productivity Transformation & Strategic Leadership Training program for corporate professionals.
- National School Science Teachers’ Conference: Facilitated AI-based assessment tools and course-planning sessions for educators.

SELECTED HIGHLIGHTS

- 22 journal and conference publications
- Excellence in Teaching Award, DIU, 2023
- Best Teacher Award, DIU, 2020
- Vice Chancellor Gold Medal for outstanding B.Sc. academic result, 2014

Training Evidence: View TITAS AI Training Event on Facebook

Training Delivery Focus: Practical prompt engineering, AI-assisted professional communication, document drafting, meeting summaries, workplace analysis and responsible use of Generative AI.